

iLit

Blended Print Support Options

Customize classrooms to fit district, school, and individual class configurations and teaching approaches.

iLit is a groundbreaking and flexible suite of literacy and ELL solutions that accelerate reading and language growth. The iLit solutions can be used in a fully digital, interactive classroom—either as a 1-to-1 or with shared devices—and used as an at-home or after school digital solution—either online or offline.

iLit also includes a comprehensive array of print offerings that can be customized to classroom, school, or district needs.

- As part of a blended print and digital in-class solution
- As part of a transition toward a fully digital solution
- For homework
- For use by substitute teachers
- To vary instructional delivery format

TEACHING SUPPORT

Blended Classroom Teaching Guide

The image shows two overlapping print guides from iLit. The top guide is titled "Work Time Rotations" and describes a proven workshop model where students rotate through three groups: 1. Computer-based iLit assignments (15-20 minutes), 2. Small Group instruction with a teacher (15-20 minutes), and 3. Sustained silent reading called Time to Read (15-20 minutes). The bottom guide is titled "45-Minute Lesson Plan" and details a series of 45-minute teaching blocks. It includes sections for Block 1 and Block 2, each with activities like Vocabulary (10 minutes), Read Aloud/Think Aloud (15-20 minutes), Work Time Rotations (15-20 minutes), Classroom Conversation (10 minutes), Whole Group (15 minutes), and Work Time Rotations (20 minutes). Each activity is paired with a description of the teacher's role or the student's task.

- Teaching guide featuring classroom models and lesson plans for teaching iLit in a blended classroom
- Guidance for utilizing the Teacher App as a presentation tool for whole class instruction, using trade book sets - provided by Pearson - for Read Aloud, Think Aloud, and implementing all parts of the instructional model in a blended classroom
- Setting up classroom rotations with centers, including print libraries, print skills practice, small group work, and independent, adaptive practice using the Student App
- Supports a range of implementation models, including a limited number of in-classroom devices, dedicated days in shared computer labs, and shared classroom devices
